Didsbury gets business initiatives grant

By Janice Harrington

Didsbury is again the recipient of a provincial grant totalling $12,500 which will be used to help attract new business and industry to town.

The grant, called the Business Initiatives for Alberta Communities grant, was announced last week by Olds/Didsbury MLA Roy Brassard and Peter Elzinga, Minister of Alberta Economic Development and Trade.

Gary Trippel, Didsbury Economic Development Officer said the money will be used to further town efforts in promoting Didsbury.

"We are going to use the money to design and build a display board to use in trade shows and the like," Trippel said. "And the remainder will be used to aid in business expansion and attraction."

This is not the first time the Town of Didsbury has received the Business Initiative for Alberta Communities grant. Trippel said the town has received the grant for at least the last three years.

"Last year we used the grant for the Didsbury video we created," he said. "We use it quite a bit to send to different companies and countries who are interested in Didsbury."

The grant is offered by the province to help smaller communities develop their business and industry base. "The purpose of the Business Initiatives for Alberta Communities program is to provide direct financial assistance on a cost shared basis to communities, enabling them to develop and implement strategies and activities which enhance local business growth and diversify the area's economic base," said Elzinga in a press release issued last week.

The grant provides up to 50 percent of the cost of the business development plans such as the preparation of economic development plans, specific business research, inventories of business sites and development of local business and industry support services.

Accident claims one life

By Janice Harrington

Didsbury RCMP are continuing to investigate a tragic car accident which claimed the life of a Didsbury man.

David Morrish, 19, was killed Sunday morning when his car was involved in a single vehicle accident 6 km south of Didsbury.

Three passengers in the car, 18-year-old Tyson Van Tighem of Didsbury, 20-year-old Cyril Jensen of Didsbury and 20-year-old Westley Walroth of Carstairs were taken to the Calgary General Hospital from the scene, where they remain in critical condition.

Both Jensen and Walroth were taken to hospital by STARS air ambulance.

Morrish is believed to have been the driver of the car at the time of the accident, which occurred at approximately 3:00 Sunday morning.

Didsbury RCMP would not comment on the cause of the crash.

Giving and receiving

Students at Ross Ford Elementary School got a little to give a little last week at their White Elephant Sale. Students and parents donated goods and then let the students do some Christmas shopping. Proceeds from the sale—which totaled $354.50—will be given to the Christmas Hamper project.

Alice, my husband's sister, has a disturbing and recurring dream. She is walking down a long hallway with a group of friends. The friends turn off and Alice is left alone and facing a maze of corridors that stretch on into infinity. All of the corridors look exactly alike and she has no idea which one to take or which way is out.

Alice is a retired school principal and a world traveller but, like me, she has no sense of direction and has to go into every new situation with a fair possibility of getting lost. Neither of us can trust our instincts to guide us, and I think that may be why she has the dream.

If my husband, or my dad, were at the bottom of a coal mine they would know which way was south and where lay the shortest route to the surface. If Alice and I were down there, we would either sit quietly and wait for help, or wander off haphazardly blundering into open shafts and underground pools. It is too horrible to contemplate. I hope I haven't given Alice a new nightmare.

Getting lost in a maze of hallways is an ongoing thing with me. When my mom was in hospital in Red Deer I became disoriented and wandered past the same nurses' station about 6 times. The first couple of times is no big deal but by the fourth or fifth round the nurse on duty is looking at you strangely and the casual smile you are affecting has frozen to your face. I got lost in the old CPR station in Calgary once. You wouldn't believe the maze of corridors they have under there. Someone who worked in the laundry guided me back to civilization. I also got lost in the House of Commons. A woman from Oregon guessed correctly that I was a tourist and incorrectly that I knew where I was going and became lost with me. My husband rescued us both.

If Ralph and I are staying at a hotel he has to watch me or I will take a wrong turn off the elevator and bumble into a party of strangers in the next corridor. I love the University of Calgary Library but I only go there with my friend Betsy. If I went alone I could become hopelessly lost and never be seen again. Sort of, "The Phantom of the Library," flitting about among the stacks trying to appear nonchalant and hoping that the staff doesn't notice that I have been wearing the same outfit for the last five days. The West Edmonton Mall is another killer. I have been there a couple of times and I truly hate it. I imagine myself as a lost and lonely bag lady wandering between the dolphin pool and Bourbon Street. Occasionally I see someone who looks familiar but I am too embarrassed to admit that I have been lost since 1987 and anyway my family probably has a new life by now and my return would only confuse and upset them. This could be the basis for a new daytime soap!

Last summer my sister-in-law Marie and I made back to back appointments with our Calgary ophthalmologist. Marie drove of course, she has no problem with her directions. The ophthalmologist had moved since Marie's last visit but Ralph and I had been to his new office so I did know what part of town he was in. We parked the car and began walking. The route did not seem familiar but I thought maybe Marie knew a shortcut. We walked for quite a long time. By now even the area seemed unfamiliar. "What is that building?" I asked her. Marie stopped walking. "It's Mewata Armories, do you know where you are going?" "Well no," I admitted, "I thought I was following you." Fortunately it was a nice day and we were early for our appointments.

The family worried when Alice and I went to London together but maybe we had an advantage. Tourists in England are sometimes injured because they expect traffic to move the same way it does at home. Since we had no idea which way we were going we expected nothing. We were occasionally lost, but people were happy to help us and we had lovely conversations with people and saw things that we may not have seen if we had always been able to follow a plan.

Alice and I will continue to bumble along relying on friends and family for guidance and the next time we go to the eye doctor, Marie will know better than to let me lead.

Koinonia looking for equitable funding

By Janice Harrington

The Koinonia Christian School, an independent school operating in the County of Mountain View, is working to get equitable funding for its students.

Gwen Day, the Koinonia Choices for Children coordinator, said Koinonia administration and parents have joined the Association of Independent Schools of Alberta (AISCA) in an effort to lobby for more provincial funding.

"The point is not that we want to take away money from children in the public school system," Day said. "It's just that we don't know why we can't have access to the same funds that they receive."

Currently children who attend independent schools (3 percent of the total student population of Alberta) only receive 1 percent of government funding allocated to provincial schools. According to statistics released by the AISCA, students in independent schools only receive 35 percent of the funding available to students who attend public schools. The goal of the AISCA is to secure 75 percent of that funding for independent school children.

"We as parents realize that choosing to educate our children away from the public schools means we have to pay tuition, but if we sent our child to that public school, the full amount of funding would be available, so that money is there," Day said.

Day said the independent schools looking for this funding are all provincially accredited and follow provincial education standards.

"The government said they already believe parents should have the choice of where to educate their children," Day added. "So we believe what they back verbally, they should back financially."

Day said the AISCA plan to lobby for equitable funding does not include any adversarial tactics, but rather an increase of awareness campaign.

"We are planning on meeting with politicians and letting them know what is going on because it seems a lot of them aren't aware," she said. "We don't want it to be a war, we aren't angry lobbyist by any means. And we aren't taking money away from anyone. We are just hoping that people will come to see what's fair."

Town council notes

By Janice Harrington

Didsbury town council has tabled a motion to rezone land which once housed the Kinsmen indoor swimming pool.

Council voted to table the motion after a public hearing on the proposed rezoning held last Tuesday.

About 20 people showed up for the hearing, most to voice their opposition to development on the land, which has been proposed by council.

The land was made vacant this fall when the pool was torn down due to structural concerns.

Those opposed to residential development on the land have requested the land be turned into a central park area and have suggested that it would be an ideal location for the Legion's memorial cenotaph.

But not all in attendance at the public hearing were opposed to development of the land. Some residents of the area said they wouldn't mind if homes were built on the lots.

"Personally, I believe there is enough green space in that area," said Mike Hofforth. "And we could darn well use the revenue and the tax base for the good of the town. We have to do what's practical."

Council passed the by-law to the Recreation Board for a recommendation on the development of a park on the land. They also suggested the land could be sold with a caveat stating only single family homes would be built there.

Didsbury town council may be taking on the job of finishing the front of the Eldon Foote Hall.

The idea of finishing the curb, gutters and sidewalks on the land in front of the hall has been passed on to the town's Finance and Personnel committee for consideration in the 1993 town budget.

The hall, a converted CP Rail station, has been a point of controversy over the past year because of the state of the land in front of the hall. Landscaping and other site finishing work has not been completed, creating a mess that councillors and residents have complained about.

A by-law is currently on the draft table to allow Didsbury residents to pay their taxes monthly.

Councillor Gayle Veno told council the by-law would hopefully be ready in time to allow monthly tax payments to start in January.

Under the by-law, residents would be able to pay property taxes due to the town in July on a monthly basis, beginning the January before taxes are due. Town administration believes the monthly payment plan will help residents currently strapped by the one time payment plan.

"We will try it and see if people like it," said Veno. "If not then we will review it again."

Town council is proceeding with the purchase of a new tanker for the Didsbury Fire Department in confidence they will receive some money to cover the cost from the Rural Fire Protection Association.

Councillor Rod Collinge said the Association has yet to officially decide on a donation to the town for the tanker, but a meeting with members of the group convinced him that they should receive some amount towards the tanker purchase.

The new tanker, used mostly for transporting water to rural fires, will cost approximately $124,000. The department's old tanker, which fire department officials say does not meet their needs any longer, will be sold to a smaller fire fighting agency.

But while council was assured some money would be forthcoming from the Rural Fire Protection Association, they were also told a new agreement on fire protection for the rural area should be worked out.

"Some members feel they are already paying for the service and don't feel they should have to pay for these extra [capitol] costs," Collinge said. "It may be that we should work out a new agreement with them as a result."

The multi-purpose room in the Memorial Arena is under investigation by council to see if upgrades to the facility are necessary.

Councillor Dan Peters said he has been receiving a number of complaints about the room, especially regarding the kitchen, sound system and general appearance.

"I think we should be looking to upgrade so we can compete with other facilities out of town," Peters said. "Otherwise we will just loose the business."

Council has voted to look into amalgamating fees they charge for each meeting.

Concerns had been raised by some councillors over the flat rate they charge to attend council meetings and other committee meetings.

"We have some meetings that only last an hour and a half," said Mayor Ray Lea. "I just don't have the heart to charge for that."

Under current by-law, each councillor can charge a $75 flat rate for each meeting they attend, regardless of the length of the meeting. Some councillors had suggested the fee either be pro-rated or given only for specific time periods.

"I also don't feel it's fair to charge for every meeting you go to," said Councillor Ed Vermunt. "You can go to 4 meetings a day if you wanted."

But not all councillors felt they should sacrifice their fees for meetings. Councillor Rod Collinge said he did not feel guilty for charging each time he attends a meeting.

"If I'm taking time off [work] to come in to a meeting, even if it's only a half hour, I have to take 2 to 3 hours off work," he said. "I feel the town should be paying for these expenses. I have kids to put through school."

Council voted to have the fee rate researched for recommendations on changing the policy.

OPINIONS/EDITORIAL

A new beginning

By Janice Harrington

Well, for better or for worse, Alberta now has a new premier.

Winning by a fair majority, Ralph Klein will soon be sworn in to Don Getty's old job and Alberta will begin a new dynasty.

What will be the result? Can we count on the changes necessary to keep our province strong, or will we see Alberta given away to the strongest lobby?

On the negative side, Klein is an opportunist. The former mayor of Calgary is a previously declared Liberal who suddenly switched allegiance and took the Conservative hat when a cabinet position was offered. He is a good ole' boy who likes to be popular. How will he fare when those tough economic decisions, ones that most certainly won't be popular with one group or another, have to be made?

And how will he be seen in the rest of the country? Klein is a man most famous for his easterner 'bums and creeps' remark and for tripping up the stairs at the Parliament buildings. Can he be taken seriously at First Ministers meetings, or will his beer drinking, small 'c' conservative reputation enforce the image of Alberta as a red neck province?

But what if Klein does have his problems, there is an upside. If anything else, he has shown, especially through the last week of this election, that he can play hardball. That's a trait that may be needed in upcoming negotiations with the feds over the state of the union and program funding down loading. With both levels of government struggling with large deficits, it may boil down to a tooth and nail fight.

But while some may fear the results of Klein's leadership over the next 14 months in office, there is no denying that he was the people's choice. With nearly 60 percent of the vote from provincial Conservatives, he has been given a mandate to run the province the way he has promised.

And if he can't do the job, there's always Laurence Decore.

Quote Of The Week:

"It's kind of a con job. I'm sorry but that's the way it's got to be."

Didsbury Mayor Ray Lea, tongue-in-cheek, talking Councillor Willard Swalm into attending a meeting for the Protective Services Committee.

Thanks given

Dear Editor:

It's that time of year again when we look back and give thanks for all our blessings.

We, at the Thrift Store, are especially thankful for all the good people who volunteer to work at our shop. This year has been a pretty good year in that we sent clothes to other stores re: Linden and Sundre. Linden sent clothes to Winnipeg when it was then sent to one of the poor countries in Europe two times this year. Also Sundre has visiting students, who can take a fair amount of clothes back on their tickets. So we have supplied them with clothes also.

We would like to thank Mr. & Mrs. Don Ausehaus for letting us use the space to put our excess clothes. You have been very understanding. Bless you.

Thanks to all the staff for their support and all the extra hours you put in over and above your regular hours.

Bless you all and have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Your Convenor,
Emily Morton,

An economic solution

Dear Editor:

Our Finance Minister, Don Mazenkowski, says his critics haven't come up with any ideas of their own. In Edmonton last week he said people were coming up with all kinds of simplistic ideas. My heart goes out to him because he obviously hasn't a clue.

First he should de-index all members of Parliament and government wages so they feel the brunt of the inflation they and the bankers are causing. You would then see the fastest control of spending and taxation in the history of our country that has a history of useless governments.

Since we are now in debt 440 billion and we are almost bankrupt and can't hardly (sic) pay the usurious (sic) interest to the international bankers we should cut all foreign aid through the government and let the people contribute directly. Members of Parliament would have first chance to contribute in Parliament on T.V. so Canadians could see just how generous they really are. This government has no mandate to put us in debt to help Marxist dictators.

With the national debt impossible to pay off when we are paying compound interest, we must go to simple interest on our debts so we don't pay interest on the interest. Our creditors must bite the bullet as we are.

Our government must take the issuing of money back from the banks. Sec. 91 of the B.N.A. act gives the Government of Canada the right to issue it's own money. Can anyone tell me why we should borrow from the bankers at compound interest what we have the right to create? If you can you should be Finance Minister not Mazenkowski.

All of Canada's armed forces must be brought home. Why should our tanks be in Germany? Why should our soldiers be in Cyprus after 30 years? The simple reason for this is to make us pay but have no protection of our own country. As in Switzerland where the army is made up of citizens who serve a couple of weeks a year and take their arms home, we would all have the pride of being in the army. Crime as we know it does not exist in Switzerland because of course it's too dangerous. Airplanes would be placed locally around the country and take off from highways as in Sweden. We pay for them so let's see them. The larger the standing Army, the larger the number of socialists you have living off the people as in countries like the U.S.A., of course we would have a professional core of officers.

To kick start the economy the government should issue cheques to the provinces for capitol projects for schools, roads, sewers, bridges, etc. This is not the creation of money but it just giving the people the use of the money already in the system. It would not cause inflation until you built too many capitol projects. This is the same system the private banks use when they give you a cheque. They don't really loan you money but just give you the right to use the money in existence for a while. (Money and Banking, Boreham, Page 180, (Towers of Gold, Feet of Clay, Page 32, if my memory serves me correctly.) If the banks can do it the Government certainly can do it.

Either Don Mazenkowski doesn't want to do anything or he took a course in economics at one of our universities and doesn't know enough about money to be able to do anything. Poor Don, when he left Alberta he was such a good man.

Greater Justice For Consumers Proposed
Hon. Roy Brassard, M.L.A.
Olds-Didsbury Constituency

For the most part, transactions between consumers and businesses are essentially trouble free. However, there are instances where you and the business disagree on a solution, and the issue must be settled in other ways. This usually means small claims court, which in turn can mean a long delay and an untold amount of money and effort. As such, consumers are demanding new ways to deal with complaints.

In order to address this problem the Honourable Dennis Anderson, Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs, has unveiled a plan that should result in quick and inexpensive resolutions to marketplace disputes. The plan, called Access to Justice, will encourage consumers to take their grievances to a mediation and arbitration process. This will allow parties to solve problems without going to court. Rather, businesses and consumers can work together in order to reach a solution. This has the added benefit of freeing the province's small claims courts to handle the more complex issues.

One of the most positive aspects of arbitration and mediation is that it is much less intimidating to potential complainants. Many people will not press complaints because of the cost and inconvenience of pursuing them through an at-times rigid legal system. Mediation also prevents consumers from having to pay a lawyer to argue a case, and allows the individual to play a greater role in the settlement process.

The Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs will work closely with others in developing mediation and arbitration programs. There are already a number of successful programs in operation, including those of the Better Business Bureau and the Landlord and Tenant Advisory Boards. Through Access to Justice, the initiation and expansion of such programs will be encouraged, and this can only benefit all those involved.

Consumer and Corporate Affairs challenges all Alberta businesses and consumers to take the next step and assist in promoting and developing mediation arbitration programs. The Alberta Government will do its part to promote access to justice in the marketplace, and the use out of court settlement procedures. This may include legislation setting out the requirement or alternative for disputes to be resolved through mediation or arbitration where practical.

Access to Justice is part of an ongoing effort by the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs to create a strong and fair marketplace. The department has already promoted the use of plain language programs for government and the consumer, and has provided improved access to consumer information through its interactive phone systems—ConsumerLink and CorporateLink. Combined, these initiatives represent considerable progress in improving Alberta's marketplace.

If you would like more information on Access to Justice, or if you need to contact me or just want to voice your concerns, please call our constituency office at 556-3132 or my office in Edmonton at 422-0141 (collect).

Tougher Parole Laws
Louise Feltham
Wild Rose M.P.

New parole laws came into force on November 1, 1992. The Correction and Conditional Release Act tightens eligibility for parole, makes the parole process more open and accountable, and gives victims more input in parole decisions.

Under the new law:

1. Victims can attend a parole hearing at the discretion of the Parole Board,
2. Victims can obtain information on an offender's prison and parole status,
3. Information from victims can be considered at a parole hearing,
4. Judges can delay full parole for violent offenders to 1/2 of their sentence (from the earlier 1/3),
5. Sexual offences against children and serious drug offences have been added to murder as crimes for which offenders can be kept in jail for their entire sentence.

Public safety is now the first consideration in all decisions relating to the treatment and release of inmates. The guiding principle, "protection of people comes first," is written right into the new Act. We are trying to find ways to insure high-risk violent and sexual offenders are kept off our streets.

The Solicitor General is reviewing a number of options to modify the law further. We would welcome your suggestions.

Mount View Health Unit news

To many of us, the Canada's Food Guide is a sheet of paper with the four food groups and a sun in the middle. The "sun" version of the Canada's Food Guide was developed in 1973 and revised in 1983. And now the Food Guide is moving into the 1990's by taking a new rainbow look. Nutrition recommendations have changed to keep up with the last 20 years of research and now the Food Guide has received it's updating. So what is new about the Food Guide? The Canada's Food Guide for Healthy Eating has changed from a focus of preventing protein, vitamin and mineral deficiencies to the total diet approach. We need only consult one set of guidelines to help us decide on which healthy foods to prevent deficiencies, and lower risks for heart disease, cancer and osteoporosis. The Food Guide has taken all the common nutrition problems into consideration.

There is more emphasis on the starchy food choices from the Grains, Vegetables and Fruit groups. The numbers of servings have increased to a minimum of 5 servings for both groups. Starches, especially ones with fibre, help us to feel fuller, eat less fat, and lower risks for heart disease and cancer.

Lower fat choices are included in the Food Guide for the first time as pictures and as the statements:

"Choose lower fat foods more often"

"Choose lower fat milk products more often" and

"Choose leaner meats, poultry and fish, as well as dried peas, beans and lentils more often."

The number and size of servings have changed for Meat and Alternatives. The old Food Guide recommended 4 - 6 oz.

(120 - 180g) per day. The Rainbow Guide recommends a range of 3 oz. (100g) to 10 oz. (300 g). The range in serving sizes and number of servings helps all Canadians choose appropriate amounts for their activity levels and iron needs.

Another change is that the Canada's Food Guide for Healthy Eating is only for people 4 years and up. No longer will parents wonder if their toddler or preschooler is eating enough because they are not eating the serving sizes recommended on the Canada's Food Guide. A Preschooler's Food Guide is available from Mount View Health Unit.

In the last 20 years, Canada has seen a variety of immigrants from all over the world. The immigrants from India and South-East Asia have added more variety to our diets. Some foods like rice and pita bread have become everyday foods for us and a few ethnic foods have been added into the new Food Guide.

Copies of the Canada's Food Guide to Healthy Eating are at the local Mount View Health Unit office. Check the Further Education brochures for the "Healthy Eating" workshop in your community. For more information about the new Canada's Food Guide for Healthy Eating, contact Mollie Cunningham, Chief Executive Officer, Mount View Health Unit, at 221-8000.

News from the Dragon's Den

Sometimes it is the extras that count. Both the school and its students were being pampered this week. The art students were very busy painting murals on most of the school's interior windows. They really add to the Christmas spirit. Moreover, Curtis Mousseau, Becky Kelsall and Mr. Overguard took time Friday morning to set up a big beautiful Christmas tree in the front foyer. The scented boughs are a nice seasonal reminder of the holidays soon to come. Next Friday, the 18th, is the last day of scheduled classes before Christmas. Mrs. Perrin's drama group is working to once again prepare a drama presentation for the school on that Friday.

Last Friday, 'pampering' was the key word of the day. The Beauty Culture department headed by Mrs. Sue Williams organized a customer service schedule for those students interested in 'pampering' themselves for the evening dance. There are 11 girls enrolled in the program with one grade 12 student, Kim Heimer. The services currently being offered include: hair sets, braids, facials, makeup, and manicures. Prices cover only the costs and range from $1.00 to $3.00. All the girls were booked for the day (including some male appointments). This was the second such opportunity for the students to service actual clientele. Earlier this fall, parents and family were treated to the students' expertise.

Didsbury musician plays with provincial honors

By Janice Harrington

Didsbury's fame for producing talented students is growing thanks to David Meyer.

Meyer, a grade 11 student at Didsbury High School recently returned from a trip to Edmonton where he played for prominent Albertans in a band composed of the best high school musicians in the province.

"It was a really good experience," Meyer said. "I learned more music from it and what it was like to play with people of my own ability and better."

Meyer, who plays the clarinet and the saxophone, took up the clarinet when he was in grade 5. He now plays in the DHS concert band and the Jazz band.

He was chosen to play with the provincial honors band after being recommended by his music teacher Todd Klein.

"He sent in a recommendation and then I sent them an audition tape," Meyer said. "After that they selected students from all across the province for in-person interviews and after they picked 60 to 70 to play, I found out in October that I had been asked."

The honors band program is set up specifically for the best band students from around the province. The students chosen spent a day playing together under the direction of a music instructor from Tampa Bay, Florida, then played a concert for band teachers and politicians.

But while Meyer has now had the fact of his talent reinforced by the honors band experience, he said he doesn't plan to make a career out of playing.

"I just plan to keep it as a hobby," he said. "I'm planning to go to university and then we will see what happens."

Christmas dinner planned

A dinner is planned for those who may be alone this Christmas holiday.

Bev Wygiera, one of the Christmas Helpers who organizes the Christmas hamper project every year, said they are also in the planning stages for a Christmas night dinner.

"This dinner has been held before," said Wygiera, "but it wasn't held last year and apparently people were looking for it."

None of the plans for the dinner have been finalized yet, and Wygiera said the Helpers are asking for volunteers to help with cooking, chauffeuring and entertaining.

"We are also looking for names of people who would be interested in coming to the dinner," she said. "Anyone is welcome who would like a place to go this Christmas."

Wygiera said anyone who would like more information on the dinner should call her at 335-3430 or Linda Sirr at 335-2378.

Correction

Last week's story on the Christmas hamper project stated that the organizers do not receive any government funding.

The project does receive funding from the Didsbury FCSS.

Lions' donation

The Agri-Sportsplex got a shot in the arm with a donation from the Didsbury Lions Club. The Club held a $100 dinner raffle and managed to raise $1,666.67 for the Agri-Sportsplex building committee and the Didsbury Handi-bus fund.

Bowden road improvement planned

The Government of Alberta will invest $827,816 in a major road improvement project in the Bowden area, Minister of Transportation and Utilities Al "Boomer" Adair and Innisfail M.L.A. Gary Severtson announced recently.

The contract was awarded to Richardson Bros. (Olds) Ltd. of Olds, lowest of six bidders. The job involves grading on Secondary Highway 791 from south of the junction of Highway 27 for 17.8 kilometres north to the County of Mountain View boundary.

"Scheduled for completion next summer, this high priority project will make this section smoother and safer and prepare it for future surfacing. This cooperative venture was funded by the province but was tendered and is being managed by the County of Mountain View," said Adair.

Olympic gold medalist delivers winning messages

By Elaine Wilson

On December 2, Mark Tewksbury spoke to students at Deer Meadow Middle School, Olds High School and Olds College about what hard work and dedication can accomplish. Tewksbury, now 24, spent 16 years training and competing before realizing his dream of winning a gold medal in the 100 meter backstroke event in Barcelona, Spain.

"I started swimming when I was 8 years old in Calgary," Tewksbury began, "I really started because I watched the '76 Olympics in Montreal, and I thought it would be really cool to represent Canada one day at the Olympics. I had really romanticized the Olympics from the time I was a little kid. But I had no idea how hard it would be or how long it would take to make the Olympic team."

After reaching world level competition, elements as simple as weather played an integral part in his success.

"I'm one of these crazy people that likes dark cloudy weather," Tewksbury said, "especially when I swim, so the sun's not in my face. I remember waking up [the morning of his gold medal win] and I opened the curtains. Every day had been hot and sunny, but that day it was dark and cloudy, and I went 'All right!'"

He had done everything during training he could to prepare physically for the games. Once at the Olympic games he concentrated on remaining focused and calm. "There was a little tent set up below the stands. With 25 minutes to go an announcement was made that the King and Queen of Spain were there to watch the 100 meter backstroke. Talk about pressure! And we were literally right below 5,000 people. We didn't know what was going on up in the stadium, but you could hear this noise travelling. Every 30 or 40 seconds you'd hear [a roar]. What was happening was right above us, they were doing the wave. We were already nervous and there were 5,000 people right above us shaking these portable stands. It was a very tense moment, more tense than I've ever had in 8 years of international competition. I decided I needed to relax, and the only way for me to relax is to sort of take control. I looked at [my competitors] and I told the stupidest joke in the world. I said, 'There's my grandma leading the cheers again, ha, ha, ha.' I was killing myself, right? No one laughed. They all just looked at me, like, 'What an idiot!' But it really relaxed me, and it made me feel in control."

Minutes before the 100 meter backstroke started, the swimmers gathered below the stands could hear a medal ceremony in progress for an event that had been won by an American. Tewksbury related an amusing account of what followed: "I've got this really bad habit of singing the last song I hear when swimming. I knew I'd be hearing the American national anthem. No disrespect intended, but I thought it would be a really bad omen to be singing the American national anthem while I was doing the backstroke. You don't have to stand in the Ready Room, but the two Americans [in the 100 meter backstroke] stood up as their anthem played. I sat in the corner, and very quietly, so no one saw me, I plugged my ears and sort of [hummed] so I wouldn't hear it. I didn't do it out of disrespect, I just needed to focus—not on an American win—but on a little Canadian. So, I uncovered my ears when it was over and looked over and there were the two Americans glaring at me!"

Years of preparation were almost undone by one small oversight that almost destroyed Tewksbury's chances at a medal before he even entered the pool. "After they'd introduced some of the people, I took off my track suit and just sat waiting. It is illegal to wear sponsorship material at the Olympics." Focused intently on the upcoming match, Tewksbury forgot he'd picked up his "good luck" Coca Cola towel, which he'd wrapped around his shoulders. "Had I stood up," Tewksbury noted, "and showed the word 'Coke' to the television camera I probably would have been disqualified before the race even started. I totally forgot I had it on. It just goes to show that a really small detail that you overlook can cost you everything."

Once the race was under way, Tewksbury found himself battling to catch up to the favorites. In the closing seconds he realized he'd pulled even with the top ranked American swimmer. The last two strokes would decide the outcome. He threw back his hand to make contact with the device that triggered the clock. It was so close even he didn't know who'd won. He looked at the scoreboard and waited. The name "Tewksbury" flashed first and his immediate reaction was shock: "Oh my God, I won the Olympics!"

Before he had a chance to digest his victory a British camera crew descended to get his response to suddenly becoming a world champion.

I really couldn't speak. My team manager was there and she was [crying]." Still out of breath and dazed by his triumph he made his way to the podium. "They put [the gold medal] over my head and they played the Canadian national anthem."

Tewksbury generated a laugh with a baseball reference:

"I looked up and they raised the big Canadian flag, the RIGHT way! It was great."

"You can do whatever you want to do," Tewksbury declared, "you've got to find something you love to do, and work really hard for it. I'm really, really lucky, because at 24 years old I've learned never to give up, because you know what? Dreams come true."

SUNDRE / WESTWARD HO NEWS

Sports council aids Sundre sports

By Bob Boucher

The President of the Sundre Gymnastic Club, Caroline Smith, announced that the club has been awarded a local sports development grant from the Alberta Sports Council. Funding in the amount of $4,348.00 was received to purchase equipment which will be used jointly by the club and the school.

Caroline said that they have been in operation as a recreational club for eight years teaching grades 1 to 12 gymnastic fundamentals with Terry Leslie being their present coach. As enrollment increases they would like to progress into the competitive field. Their present equipment consists of balance beam, parallel bars, mini trampoline and uneven bars and as safety is always a major concern, money from the grant will go to purchase an assortment of mats.

Dave Turnbull, Alberta Sports Council Zone 2 Coordinator said that Local Sports Development Grants are given out quarterly and applicants are informed of the boards decision within 60 days after their application is received.

Turnbull said local sports development grants are funded 80% from the lottery fund and 20% from the corporate sector. There are three corporate sponsors at present; Nova, Amoco and TransAlta Utilities who give generously to the sport scene. There are five members at large on the zone 2 Board, said Turnbull. The Chairman is Al Qually, from the Olds College, other members are Jerry Percy from Banff (his daughter is Karen, well known in skiing) Bill Cunningham of Trochu, Doug Jones of Oyen, and Faron McMaster of the Siksika Nation at Gleichen.

The Sundre Figure Skating Club has also been sent notification of a grant for $750.00 said Turnbull.

Gun owners . . . take heed

By Bob Boucher

On July 27, 1992 Kim Campbell, Attorney General of Canada, announced enhanced regulations and various provisions of the firearms control legislation (C-17) would come into force August 1, 1992. As well, six Orders in Council, most coming into force on October 1, 1992 would prohibit or restrict various weapons ammunition, accessories and components.

Sgt. McGhie, of the Sundre, RCMP Detachment, said with the new regulations better gun safety will ensue. He said that all weapons of a paramilitary nature are on the prohibited list. Some of the paramilitary items mentioned were combat shotguns, sniper rifles, assault pistols, cop killer armour-piercing bullets, explosive and incendiary cartridges. Sgt. McGhie said that a list of semi-automatic assault rifles and similar firearms, received restricted weapon status. These must be registered with the RCMP and bans their use for hunting but allows the owners to retain and transfer the weapons.

He said that on January 1, 1993 other regulations will come into force dealing with magazine capacity limits, obtaining a Firearm Acquisition Certificate (FAC) and the safe storage, handling and transportation of firearms. The gradual phase in of regulations, he said, will allow those who own and use firearms to comply with the law. It will also give industry time to adjust to the demand for items such as safe storage devices and magazines that will be needed to comply with the law.

New offenses and sentences under the criminal code have been added said Sgt. McGhie. Converting firearms to fully automatic nets up to 5 years. Possession of prohibited weapon gets from 5 to 10 years. Importing, buying or selling prohibited weapons can carry 5 to 10 years. October 1, 1992 was the last day for owners to register as genuine gun collectors in order to keep their converted fully-automatic firearms.

Sgt. McGhie also said the minimum age to acquire firearms permits (FAC) has been raised from 16 to 18 and minor's permits from 12 to 18.

Safety in storage, handling and transportation has also been made a part of the regulations said Sgt. McGhie. All firearms must be stored unloaded and separate from ammunition. Handguns must be kept in a secure container and protected by a locking device. A person may load a firearm only in a place where it may be lawfully discharged. If a firearm is being transported in a vehicle, it must be kept unloaded and out of sight. The usual mode of carrying a rifle in a truck mounted gun rack is now illegal. Sgt. McGhie said he would hand out warnings on the first offence of this infraction, the second will bring a penalty.

In July of 1993 a "Firearm Safety Education Program" will be phased in said Sgt. McGhie. FAC applicants will have to present evidence that they have successfully completed a course/test in safe handling, use and knowledge of laws relating to firearms.

This is a brief outline of the new firearm control legislation, said Sgt. McGhie, for more detailed and specific clarification please contact the appropriate authorities.

End of an era

The Olds Royal Purple has shut its doors, citing lack of membership for the Club's demise. The Olds club opened in 1948. Pictured are: Charter member Nita St. Clair, Honored Royal Lady Elaine McInnes and Charter member Opal Kjos.

Olds Royal Purple dissolve charter

By Elaine Wilson

After over 4 decades of serving their lodge and community, members of the Olds Royal Purple Lodge #113 have surrendered their charter.

Citing a lack of new members as the number one reason for disbanding, Honored Royal Lady, Elaine McInnes said, "We'll miss the fellowship and the friends of the Royal Purple."

Originally instituted on June 29, 1948, the Olds branch has a long history of service to the community. Through various activities, the members raised funds to aid people in need at home and abroad. In 1959 the Lodge funded the 'adoption' of a Korean child who they continued to support through 1973. In December of 1986, funds donated furnished a room at the new Olds General Hospital. Other funds went to individuals requiring financial assistance the Lodge was pleased to provide. Members are proud of the money raised for the CNIB and the Heart and Stroke Foundation through canvassing.

The original regalia was too expensive to buy and the members decided to sew them themselves. Two charter members, Opal Kjos and Nita St. Clair were among the original members who fashioned regalia and Station covers used through the years and up to the present.

Charter member Nita St. Clair said, "It was a very important social part of our lives. I will miss it greatly."

Over the years the Royal Purple members maintained a close working relationship with the Olds Elks Lodge. In a letter to the Royal Purple, Olds Elks Secretary Cliff Cummins said: "Thanks for selling the kitchen equipment to us," adding, "we hope that you will feel free to come in once in a while to clean it up." He concluded on a more serious note: "We would like to thank you for your cooperation over the years since your institution in 1948. We have enjoyed working with you on many projects and will miss your participation in the future. The work you have done for your community is to be commended and they will certainly miss the part you have played."

Council fights apathy on crime

By Elaine Wilson

Small town life is wonderful. One of the 'perqs' is the sense of safety and security city dwellers only dream of.

You can leave your house unlocked jump in the car, and dash to the store. There's no need to lock the car. You can even leave it running, since you'll only be gone for a few minutes. Your purse and a handful of tapes are safe on the front seat because, after all, this is Olds, not Detroit.

Welcome to the 90's. You return to the parking lot. Your purse and tapes are gone. So is the car. When you get home your stereo and television are gone too. You left the house unlocked, but the robbers had a twisted sense of humour and they broke three windows on the way out. Why didn't 'somebody' do something about the increase in vandalism and theft?

'Somebody' tried. Members of the East Olds Association held a meeting November 26 to set up a Neighbourhood Watch program. After favorable response to a telephone campaign and notices posted prominently around town, they expected a large turn-out. Less than a dozen people turned up.

Town councillors have discussed options available but fighting apathy is a losing battle. At a recent town council session, Art Rowland who heads the protective services portfolio, wryly remarked that as the East Olds Association discovered, it's tough enough instituting a program like Neighbourhood Watch, but it's even more difficult to sustain interest and commitment after the fact.

In the meantime, R.C.M.P. members have stepped up their "Lock It Or Lose It" campaign. The Olds R.C.M.P. detachment welcomes inquiries on home security from residents and the East Olds Association remains interested in establishing a Neighbourhood Watch program.

CREMONA/WATER VALLEY NEWS

Elves turn out for Winterfest

By Kathy Parsons

"We had quite a few elves turn out for the parade and Best Dressed Elf Contest," reports Daisy Sullivan, coordinator, "and we're quite pleased with how well everything turned out."

All reports are in and the unanimous conclusion is that the 4th Annual Winterfest in Cremona was a huge success. That includes the weather—Old Man Winter helped out the day's events with plenty of sunshine. "We had to reroute the parade because of the icy conditions but otherwise the weather was perfect," commented Sullivan.

Reports back from the gift sale say that the variety of items available from 35 tables was outstanding and you could have done most of your Christmas shopping there. "There was plenty of mouth watering baking, well made handicrafts and wooden toys," said Sullivan. The fashion show went well and had lots of beautiful clothing to offer for Christmas.

Of course, the success of this kind of event can be largely attributed to good volunteer help. "We had a good group of volunteers and they all worked together. We can't thank them enough for all their hard work," commented Sullivan.

"Overall, we are delighted with the attendance and everyone seemed to have had a good time visiting and taking in the events," said Sullivan. And when questioned about the likelihood of a Fifth Annual Winterfest, Sullivan said, "Oh, yes! The Chamber of Commerce hasn't discussed or committed anything yet but with this year's success, I think we can look at doing it again next year!"

Cremona gets resource recovery grant

The Village of Cremona has been awarded a $5,500.00 grant through Alberta's Action on Waste program to purchase a roll-off bin to augment the multi-material collection system serving Cremona/Water Valley and area. Details of the project were announced by Olds-Didsbury Constituency MLA, Roy Brassard and Alberta Environment Minister Ralph Klein.

"For several years now the Village of Cremona has been working on waste reduction projects with other communities in the western region of the County of Mountain View," said

Minister Ralph Klein. "This expansion project is an excellent example of the rural community taking a leadership role in reducing waste."

"With waste reduction projects like this, the volumes of waste that are collected continue to decrease," commented Brassard. "The Cremona and District Agricultural Society and the volunteers who operate the project are to be commended for their initiative."

In addition to the roll-off bin, the grant funds will be used to include site preparation and signage. Roll-off bins are used for collecting paper, cardboard, metal, glass, and oil. The new roll-off bin will be used at Water Valley to replace a small wooden shed in use for cardboard.

Under the Action on Waste program, municipalities and non-profit organizations can apply for Resource Recovery Grants to establish recycling and waste reduction projects. The Resource Recovery Grant Program has provided funds to over 200 projects throughout the province since 1976. The program encourages non-profit and service groups to involve their municipalities in recycling programs.

Burnt Timber employees consider union affiliation

By Kathy Parsons

The Shell Burnt Timber Gas Plant has had an Employees Association since 1970 when the plant began operations. Recently, it was proposed that the Association affiliate itself with the national Energy and Chemical Workers Union (ECWU).

The proposed affiliation comes from the unsettled environment in the oil patch. According to Don Jeske, President of the Employees Association, "morale is low because of the instability of the patch and job security is the main contributing factor behind the affiliation."

An affiliation with the ECWU will give Shell Burnt Timber employees more money and support behind them should something come to grievance. "We would get more recognition as well," says Jeske, "being part of a larger organization like the ECWU. We'll have somebody standing behind us."

A sense of security is also a benefit, "should this plant be sold we have the security of having the union as part of the package," says Jeske. The sale of the plant is not an immediate concern as far as he's aware but the instability in the industry gives no guarantees.

Whether the proposed union affiliation at Burnt Timber is a sign of the times or just an isolated case wasn't established and Shell did not wish to make

A turkey in a pear tree

...Perhaps that's what the ages-old Christmas carol should have read, for have you ever wondered what Christmas would be like without a turkey at the dinner table?

For most of us, the thought seems unlikely. Turkey's have been an assumed part of the traditional holiday feast for generations. It is a fact that has, perhaps, led to the tasty bird being taken a bit for granted.

Mel Keys of Carstairs, however, is one exception.

For Keys, turkeys have become not only a way of life, but also his livelihood. "I've been raising turkeys now for about five years... some of which I spent up by Edmonton working as a hired hand on a turkey farm."

Years later, Keys and his wife are the proud owners of their own operation, The Carstairs Turkey Farm, located just 12 km west of town.

Its business, he believes, is a lot more complicated than meets the eye. Keys says there are strict guidelines outlining the minimum and maximum turkey kilogram value producers are allowed to supply each year.

"I get about three flocks per year... the numbers vary because the shipments are all

New accessible bus to travel province

Accessible intercity travel between Edmonton, Red Deer and Calgary for the disabled received a tremendous boost December 1, 1992 when Greyhound introduced regular service for a wheelchair accessible bus as part of its ongoing commitment to provide barrier-free transportation to Canadians.

The daily service, to include at least one trip in each direction, was introduced as a one-year pilot project and supplements the service already available on conventional buses. It will be carefully evaluated throughout the period to determine the viability of continuing and/or expanding the service compared to other alternatives.

On regular buses, wheelchair users have their wheelchair stored and are lifted into the bus and onto a seat. On conventional buses, a wheelchair user usually travels with an attendant who is provided a free ticket.

Unique design and engineering features of the new 44-passenger prototype bus make it more convenient and easier for disabled passengers to travel independently. Designed by Motorcoach Industries of Winnipeg, it has two spots reserved for people in wheelchairs, and offers a fully accessible washroom.

Wheelchair users board using an automated lift, large enough to accommodate electric or manual wheelchairs, enabling passengers to stay in their chairs for the duration of trip. The fully accessible washroom allows wheelchairs to make a full 360 degree turn. The sink and mirror are positioned for use from a seated or standing position, and the faucet is activated by an infrared sensor when hands are placed beneath it. Pivoting grab bars ensure easy transfer from chair to toilet, however an attendant is necessary for disabled passengers to use the lavatory while the bus is in motion.

The coach is also equipped with several features to ensure safe, enjoyable travel for elderly or visually impaired passengers. Among the features are a lower front step to make boarding easier, individual headset volume controls for each seat, braille instructions for each emergency exit, and the lavatory features high contrast grab rails and two assist buttons to alert the driver if a problem should occur.

In addition to its new wheelchair accessible coach, Greyhound is also introducing "Just Mobility" chairs which make it easier for disabled passengers to board conventional buses at the Edmonton and Calgary terminals.

Introduction of the new services are a result of the cooperative efforts between Greyhound Lines of Canada, Alberta Transportation and Utilities, Transport Canada, The Red Deer Action Group for the Physically Disabled, The Calgary Handi-Bus Association, and the Edmonton Disabled Adult Transit System. You may get more information about the new service, by contacting your local Greyhound representative.

OHS presents "Our Town"

Only once in a while does a play, or a movie, or an operatic composition come along which is most instantly recognized by critics and public alike as representing a milestone in its respective art form, as setting standards to be followed by others for years to come. Among these few must certainly be included "Our Town", the Pulitzer Prize-winning play by Thornton Wilder now in rehearsal for local presentation by the Olds High School Drama Club.

A critic of the New York Times said this about "Our Town" after its opening night in February 1938: "Our Town" has escaped from the barriers of modern theatre into the quintessence of a hauntingly beautiful play."

Mr. Wilder was the first playwright to focus on the power of the spoken word to create a whole town, a whole lifetime of emotional experience.

The Olds High School Drama Club's presentation of this true classic of the American Theatre is scheduled for December 11 and 12 at 7:30 p.m. on the Deer Meadow School Stage. Tickets may be purchased at Olds High and Deer Meadow School Offices or at local drugstores. Please support our efforts by buying your tickets today!

Oops and 0 for 2 on the weekend

Don't look now, but the Ramblers are showing signs of mediocrity as they drop their second game in a row by a score of 7-3 to the Olds Elks team on Sunday afternoon.

Too much talent and not enough effort seems to be the consensus from the dressing room as the Ramblers continue to struggle around the net in the latest of setbacks.

A shotgun start found the Ramblers up 2-0 early in the first period on the visiting Elks, however, some weak netminding and missed scoring chances soon found the Ramblers trailing by a score of 6-2 after two periods.

Early powerplay goals by Greg Laveck and Scott Fisher had the Ramblers out to a quick lead but the opportunistic Olds Elks were full credit for cutting into the Rambler lead to narrow the score to 2-1 after the first period as Rick Lyle capitalized on some sloppy defensive work and jammed home the 2nd rebound to put the Elks on the board.

An all too familiar 2nd period proved to be the Rambler downfall as the visiting Olds team was to be rewarded for persistent forechecking by scoring 4 times.

Temper flared in the second period when Rambler defenceman Delos Archer squared off with Olds newcomer Darren

Hutchings in front of the Rambler net, however, after a spirited exchange no player was the clear victor.

Olds Elks played a textbook defensive game in the 3rd period as they managed to keep the Ramblers on the outside lane for most of their scoring chances and Elks netminder Ron Moritz was tested little except for a late flurry in the 3rd period when the Ramblers found themselves on another powerplay.

Too little too late would find the Ramblers scoring their 3rd goal of the evening with a two man advantage as Hal Schiffner would blast a point shot past the Olds goaltender with 11 seconds remaining in the game.

The big scorer for Olds was veteran Lars Olsen as he scored 3 times and assisted on another to lead the offence for the visiting Elks.

Shots on goal were 11-10, 10-14, and 8-7 for a total of 31-29 in favor of the Elks.

The Rambler powerplay continued to struggle as they were only 2 for 12 on the evening and failed to capitalize on several good scoring chances throughout the game.

On a happier note, the Ramblers were glad to announce that in spite of a less than anticipated crowd, they awarded their faithful turnout with a 14" color T.V. as a promotion prize and the lucky winner was Dickie Lever of Didsbury.

Game board winners for the evening were 1st period: Marie Crawford, 2nd period: Elmer Youngs, and 3rd period was a blank which will be shared by minor hockey.

The next Rambler game is against the visiting Innisfail Eagles and this game is to be taped by cable 10 so the Ramblers are hoping for a better turnout.

This game is to sponsor the less fortunate and gate admission is only 50 cents with a non-perishable food donation at the door.

All donations will go to help the local foodbank in Didsbury and the Ramblers hope that community spirit shows strong in these times and contributes towards the event.

Cremona minor hockey news

By Ryan Robertson

The Cremona Atom A's, although travelling a bit of a rocky road earlier in the season, have at last found competitive-ness, and peace of mind at the same time. The club, co-coached by Don Farquharson, Al Mac Rae and Larry Gano, was re-aligned to Atom B on November 30, 1992.

On Saturday Dec. 5, the locals hosted Morrin and came away victorious. It was a solid team effort and it was enjoyable in their dressing room after to see all those smiles come back. Manager Jamie Roberts was very pleased with the play of the team with everyone contributing.

The Atom C's are another group of energetic youngsters who play hard and have been quite competitive in all games I've seen them play this season. Coached by Dan Richmond and Martin Blain, the team gains valued experience and time out. Unfortunately on Dec. 6, a game scheduled against Cochrane had to be postponed due to plant problems here in Cremona. Too bad, you'll have to get them next time. The team is managed by Gary Ayre.

Bopping along

The Lions $100 dinner raffle also benefitted BOP to the tune of $1,666.67. BOP also got donations from Home Oil Carstairs ($2,000), Reimer Concrete ($2,500) and Nova Corporation ($1,000).

"Judgment Day"

By Bob Boucher

The day of judgment . . . eternally upon us, by our peers . . . whom we meet each day, and also through the years. Desiring us to view . . . all . . . through their eyes . . . not realizing, that ours . . . is a different surmise. The judge . . . with no source . . . other than their own wit . . . or supposition, pressing their cause to the limit. Our being passive to their force . . . at times generate . . . in no intended way . . . an inherent reason for them to become . . . vindictive . . . Banishing from our mind, any thoughts of their judgment . . . perceiving they are not . . . our final Judge . . . we face our Maker . . . where . . . our Soul has a channel, tuned for guidance . . . from above . . . forming a firm alliance . . . With GOD . . . who is always . . . our final Judge.

THERE'S NO ALTERNATIVE TO CONCRETE

Concrete is the basement building material with all the advantages

It's a proven performer. Rugged Tough. Durable. A concrete basement will never burn or rot. And concrete is safe. Quality-controlled concrete needs no toxic chemicals which may be hazardous to building occupants.
Concrete is an energy-wise choice.
A concrete basement needs little heat or air conditioning. And concrete walls are easily insulated.

Economically, concrete is a great investment. A concrete basement will add years of life to the foundation and comparable dollars to the resale value of your building.

Add up the advantages. There's simply no alternative to quality controlled concrete. The best basement building material.

Quality Doesn't Cost
- It Pays!

In order to carry out this project, the Council intends to apply to the Local Authorities Board for authorization to borrow an amount not exceeding Three Hundred Thirty-one Thousand Dollars ($331,000).

The Council will have to repay the borrowed amount by debenture repayable in ten (10) consecutive annual installments with interest at the rate as determined from time to time by the Alberta Municipal Financing Corporation (Currently Eight and One Half [8½%] per annum).

The Council anticipates that $271,000 of the estimated borrowed amount of $331,000 will be recoverable from the School Foundation Program Fund, leaving the council responsible for approximately $60,000.

Let's talk recycling

By the Didsbury Lions Recycling Committee
Part 2

This week's key word is Partnership. A partnership involves a group of people each sharing their time and efforts to attain a particular goal. They share the expenses of their operation, and they share the profit. They share the good times and the bad times. And they all share in the glory when things run smoothly.

The recycling project designed for our town will be a partnership of three groups of people.

The Town is one of the partners. They will provide facilities and required funding (most of it from provincial grants) to make the venture a success. To operate effectively, we will need a building to collect, sort and market our recyclable material. To prepare our product for the market place we will need special equipment to produce heavy industrial lots or bales and we will need equipment to move and transport our product.

The Lions Club is another partner. We have been asked by the town to manage the venture. We will be organizing the labor to help prepare our materials and we will arrange to sell what we collect and try to get the best price we can for it. We will also establish goals and publish how well we all meet those goals.

But the most important partner in the recycling venture--the group who will benefit most and the people who have the most to contribute are:

The residents of Didsbury. Organization and financial backing alone will not make a venture a success--people willingly participating and contributing will make the venture a success. Every household will be contacted to explain how you can be a partner by participating and what you can do to make the joint venture a success.

Next week's key word will be Participation. We will describe how the three partners can participate in recycling so that all three partners will benefit from a well organized municipal project.

Crime of the week

This week CrimeStoppers needs your help in identifying those responsible for a business break-in in Red Deer. If you have any information regarding this theft or any other unsolved crime, call CrimeStoppers now at 340-TIPS, that's 340-8477 or call toll free at 1-800-661-TIPS. The calls to CrimeStoppers are not traced or recorded and you never have to give your name or testify in court. CrimeStoppers will pay up to $2,000 for information leading to the arrest of suspects in any unsolved crime. CrimeStoppers serves all of Central Alberta.

The role of the Nominating Committee is to recommend, for membership on the Didsbury Housing Authority Board, public-minded citizens who will work with Alberta Municipal Affairs Housing Divisions in ensuring the successful operation of the Housing Authority.

The liaison link between the Provincial Minister, the Housing Divisions, the Nominating Committee and the Authority is the Manager of Program Co-Ordination, who maintains the master files for all authorities and who initiates the documentation in connection with authority appointments. When a term expires, or when a vacancy occurs for some other reason, the Manager of Program Co-Ordination requests the Provincial Representative to have the Nominating Committee consider extending a term or recommending a new member. The Committee recommendations are communicated to the Manager of Program Co-Ordination who then prepares the necessary documents for the Provincial Minister's approval.

The involvement of the Nominating Committee is limited to finding new members for the Didsbury Housing Authority and, when a term expires, confirming whether the member wishes to serve another term. The Nominating Committee does not become involved with the operation of the Didsbury Housing Authority.

Any person interested in filling the vacant Municipal Representative position on the Nominating Committee may submit their name in writing to:

Jackson W.I. news

Our November meeting was postponed for a week because of inclement weather.

Fifteen of our members—and one guest Marlene Bomersback—met at Judy Bellamy's home. Judy had the fireplace going which gave a cheerful air to our meeting.

Kay Unger, as Vice President, presided as our president was unable to attend. The roll call was an "Environmental Tip." The members replied from sensor lights to conserving gas by going to fewer meetings. We all had our favorites, but the tip on saving on our grocery bags by recycling was the odds on favorite.

The tea at the Didsbury Health Care Center was discussed with the menu planned and volunteers volunteering.

Our birthday money will be donated to Operation Eyesight.

The District Conference will be held in the Gold & Silver building on April 20.

Elma Bird made a motion to donate $25 to the Cremona School to help enlarge their "Special Needs" library. Gerda Niehaus seconded the motion.

A donation will be given to Gerry Shadlock to help with the postage on the squares for Africa.

Christmas is nearing. We received a Christmas card from our A.W.I. president Holly Hallett and one from our retiring District Director Kay Silvers. An interesting report from Chris Van Arnham thanked us for supporting financially his trip to Ottawa in September and gave details of his week in Canada's capital.

Our 1993 home schedule was reviewed and homes donated for the meetings for the coming year.

The nominating committee consisting of Marie Jane Davies and Alice Van Arnham will be phoning members for the numerous positions that need filling in our local institute. So be ready with a "yes" reply. The entire organization depends upon us as individual members.

Holly Hallett suggested our institute do something splendid this coming year as we celebrate our 40th anniversary of existence with 5 of the charter members still attending. We decided on a combined Husband-Valentine Anniversary party on February 5 or 6 at the Gold & Silver, and of course it is going to be catered.

Judy Bellamy as our Environmental Convenor gave us a talk about our winter birds and how to care for them. Most of us have feeders so it was interesting to have our techniques and menus confirmed.

Our annual and Christmas meeting will be at Marguerite Krebs' home on Dec. 16. The roll call will be to "show and tell" a favorite Christmas decoration and there will be a "Tacky Gift Exchange." Also on the agenda is a Hamper Donation. The lunch will consist of Christmas baking from all those whose last names fall into the M to Z category. Noreen Olson, Holly Hallett and Elma Bird with different talents will be on for the program.

A lovely lunch was served by Marguerite Krebs and Gerda Niehaus.

You'll see such classics as Something Good, Show and Tell, David's Father, Love You Forever, and many more. The artists in Class 3C have worked to illustrate these well known stories with bright color and true to life characters. Their posters are filled with action and packed with emotion. Be sure to stop by our front window to view this wonderful display!

The Games Galore Scrabble Ladder Tournament is finished with the top 4 winners being: Mandy Culp, Jody Dawson, Stephanie Leiper, and Tommy Dawson. Thanks to all the players who tried so hard.
